

To the FCC Commissioners:

I am writing to voice my STRONG conviction that broadband service should remain regulated by the FCC. The only way to protect free speech, and protect our ability to freely disseminate ideas of all persuasions, is to insure that small, independent vehicles be protected from the hugh companies they rely on. So please, vote to maintain the current level of regulation. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Bruce Dichter